

Planting maple trees for Canada 125

Jack and Diane Kooiman and family recently moved into a new home on the 11th Concession, and found the perfect way to both celebrate Canada's birthday, and beautify their property. The three Kooiman sons, their friends and girl friends came up to Bradford West Gwillimbury for the day, and planted blue spruce and maple trees along the property's edge.

Their reward was a barbecue, followed by fireworks. And on Sunday, the Kooimans will be holding their first annual family reunion, with family members from as far away as Kingston coming up for the weekend.

A birthday, notes Jack, is a special thing. "It only happens once a year - and your 125th is a wonderful day!"

What's more fitting for Canada Day than planting a maple tree? The Kooiman family and friends planted trees, and enjoyed a BBQ, July 1
